● ABOUT ME

Dedicated academic and professional with extensive experience in higher education, entrepreneurship, and digital innovation. I specialize in developing and delivering interdisciplinary curricula that bridge traditional economic theories with modern technologies. Passionate about fostering sustainable development through education, research, and collaboration, I believe in the potential of young people and the transformative power of education. My work is defined by a strong commitment to integrating practical applications into academic initiatives, empowering students to become future leaders and driving a lasting impact on the broader economic landscape.
